

Classroom Sets of Holocaust Literature

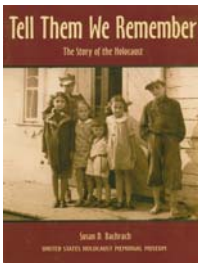

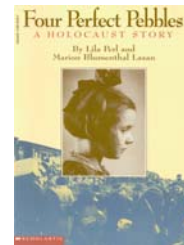

Surviving Hitler: A Boy in the Nazi Death Camps

A book about MCHE co-founder Jack Mandelbaum's experiences in Nazi-occupied Poland. This biography, written by award-winning author Andrea Warren, is the story of 15-year-old Jack's struggle to survive a series of concentration camps after being torn from his family. Winner of the Gold Medal for Children's Nonfiction by the National Association of Parenting Publications Award, the Robert F. Sibert Award and the William Allen White Award. Appropriate for middle school and up.

Four Perfect Pebbles: A Holocaust Story

A child's memory of survival in Nazi-occupied Holland. Marion Blumenthal and her family endured six and a half years living in refuge, transit and prison camps, eventually arriving in Westerbork and Bergen-Belsen concentration camps. Appropriate for students as young as 6th grade, this memoir documents the unusual scenario of a family surviving the Holocaust intact.

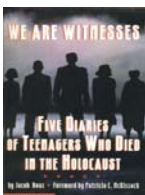

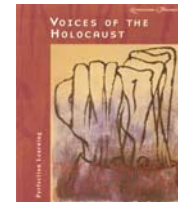

Tell Them We Remember: The Story of the Holocaust

Written on an 8th grade level, this chronological history of the Holocaust features one to two page summaries of events between 1933-1945 as well as archival photographs, a chronology, a bibliography, a glossary, and photographs from the United States Holocaust Memorial Museum. This book is an excellent resource for student research and reading assignments.

Voices of the Holocaust

An anthology of Holocaust literature based around the essential question "could a Holocaust happen here?" This book contains literature that challenges the reader, promotes critical thinking, and encourages independent exploration of genres, themes, and issues.

We Are Witnesses: Five Diaries of Teenagers Who Died in the Holocaust

These diaries chronicle the day-to-day lives of Jewish teenagers in Nazi-occupied Lithuania, Hungary, Belgium, and Holland between 1940 and 1944. An excellent tool for personalizing the history of the Holocaust, these writings offers an excellent supplement to any unit on Anne Frank.

Life Unworthy of Life

This educational resource investigates the events leading up to and during the Holocaust, beginning with the aftermath of the first World War through the Final Solution. It includes learning activities to promote active student discussion, analysis of ethical issues surrounding these events, and examination of the long-

The MCHE Resource Center is open Monday-Friday 8:30-5:00 and until 7:00 p.m. on Wednesdays during the school year.